

Money idioms call my bluff

Team A

1. Save your money for a rainy day- Save money when time is good in case you have financial troubles later
 2. The breadwinner- The person who brings most of the income into the household
 3. Bring home the bacon- Earn a salary
 4. A hole in the wall – A cash point (= ATM)
 5. Put your money where your mouth is – Commit yourself to something, for example by investing your own money
 6. Monopoly money – An amount of money that seems like a lot to poor people but is unimportant to rich people
-

Money idioms call my bluff

Team B

7. In for a penny, in for a pound- Once you've decided to do something, you may as well dedicate yourself to it 100%
8. The pink pound- Spending power of gay people (usually quite high as they don't have children)
9. To hold the purse strings- Be in control of the money, e.g. in a family or company
10. Spend a penny- Go to the toilet for a "number one" (a pee)
11. Have your fingers in the till – Be stealing money from work