

Testing vocabulary definitions game

Choose one of the words below and start explaining it which word you are thinking of without using any part of the word or expression (e.g. if you are defining An end-of-term test, you can't say End, Term, Test, or Testing). When your partner has guessed which word you are defining they should politely interrupt you and say which word they think you are explaining.

Fail	Pass	Retake	An exam/ examination
A test	A pop quiz	Multiple choice questions	An entrance exam
End of term paper	Continuous assessment	Oral test	Essay
The pass mark	A distinction	A degree	A level test
A diagnostic test	A dissertation	Finals	An end-of-term test
A mid-term test	A portfolio	An examiner	An interlocutor
An examinations board	Sentence completion	Gap fill/ cloze	Sentence transformations
Answer sheet	Computer marking	Cheating	Revision/ revise
Practice tests	Test-day nerves	Cramming	Crib sheet
Private tutor	A school leaving test	A grade	A score
A certificate	A qualification	A graduation ceremony	A diploma
A degree	A Master's	A doctorate	STEP
BULATS	TOEIC	SAT	GMAT
ToEFL	GCSE	International Baccalaureate	FCE
CAE	CPE	IQ	Placement test
Spelling test	A levels	A vocational qualification	A test result notification
A postgraduate qualification	A listening test	A hearing test	The answer sheet
Syllabus	School league tables	Revision timetable	MA/ MSc/ MBA
HB pencil	Absent	Error correction	Translation

Parent teachers' day	Marking	A school report	A bachelor's degree/ BA/ BSc
Professional exams	A chartered accountant	Final grade	A gap year
BEC	KET	PET	Lab work
Deadline	The pass mark	A 2:2	Finals
(Final) dissertation	Revise/ cram	Cheat	Thesis
Candidate	Candidate number	Major
Pass with flying colours	Flunk	Fall at the first hurdle	Scrape through

With the same vocabulary, give an opinion about or using one of the words above. Predict whether your partner agrees or disagrees by hiding something (e.g. an eraser) in your right hand (= agree) or left hand (= disagree). After they give their reaction, show them which hand you are holding something in. Did you predict their opinion correctly?